Carl Marrs, Chief Executive Officer
March 31, 2020

As the novel coronavirus (COVID-19) continues to spread in the U.S. and across the globe, I want to take a moment to let you know what Old Harbor Native Corporation (OHNC) is doing to respond to this public health emergency.

First, our number one priority is the safety and well-being of our Board of Directors, employees, shareholders, clients, families, and the communities in which we live and work here in Alaska and across the country. OHNC's management is working with our subsidiary managers and other professionals to monitor the public health emergency and to put processes in place to help ensure both the safety of our people and the continuity of our businesses for our customers and stakeholders.

We are assessing the situation daily, remaining vigilant, and following all recommendations from the World Health Organization (WHO), U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and local authorities.

Office Closures

The Anchorage, Kodiak, and Old Harbor offices of OHNC will be closed until further notice. The office closure will be reassessed as updated Federal and State mandates are issued.

The phone line (907.278.6100) will remain open and key employees can be reached via email. You may also email info@oldharbor.org with any inquiries.

Shareholder Meetings Canceled

All Shareholder Informational Meetings are canceled and the Annual meeting will be rescheduled. All shareholder will be notified of the rescheduled date once it is confirmed.

Stay Informed

The Anchorage Health Department and Alaska Department of Health and Social Services websites are great references to consult, as well as the CDC COVID-19 Summary. Please stay informed from reliable government websites.

Quyanaa - Thank you for understanding and please take care!
